Club Records (as at the completion of the 2019/20 Season)

Notes:

Where possible, Geelong Little Athletics Club (GLAC) uses full electronic timing on both the front and back straights. What is meant by full electronic timing is that the timing device is started by the gun and is stopped by the athlete passing the electronic eye on the finishing gates. In this way, the reaction time of timekeeper is removed at both the start and finish of these events. On some occasions, GLAC has to revert to partial electronic timing with the use of the finishing gates, but the timing device is manually started. The removal of the timekeepers' reaction time influences the time recorded for races – athletes are given slower times electronically than manually.

There is an international convention for comparing manual and electronic times – this has been, and will be observed for all GLAC records.

Converting manual time to standardised time - according to the international convention, and LAVIC Rule 260 (and to which GLAC adheres), all track events up to 300m Hurdles - add 0.24s to the manual time; for 400m or 4x100m then add 0.14s.

[E.g. A manual 100m time of 13.65 is rounded to nearest tenth of a second 13.7 and then standardised (S) using the addition of 0.24 for a standardised time of 13.94. A time of 13.64 is rounded down to 13.6 and converted to standardised time of 13.84].

It is understood that full electronic timing came into effect in the 2009/2010 Season.

On this basis, all records have been standardised '(S)' prior to the 2009/2010 Season.

During the competition season, records are now only registered at Landy Field.
